L. O. BRIGHT QUILTS ACTIVE DUTY AT ANTIOCH H. SCHOOL

Asks Pay in Full Until Expiration of Contract in August

Members of the board of Antioch Township High school were asked Saturday by Principal L. O. Bright to relieve him of his active duties for the rest of the year. He asked that he be paid in full until the expiration of his contract in August, and he is to return to the school from time to time to attend to details that have been under his personal charge, and to check the progress of projects that have been under his supervision.

The board granted the request, and H. H. Riechers, assistant principal, will finish the term as acting principal.

Bright, who has been head of the school here for the past 19 years, had not received a renewal of his contract for the coming year.

More than 70 applications have been received for the principalship here, board members said today. All high school teachers are hired on a yearly basis, receiving their pay in 12 installments.

Channel Lake Club to Erect Street Markers

Visitors to the Channel Lake neighborhood over Memorial Day week-end will have the Channel Lake Community club, to thank for the new markers which are being hurried into place to mark street intersections there.

The club is putting up markers at all intersections from Shady Nook to Channel Lake Bluffs, including Mid-Lakes, Willets, Woodcrest and Woodbine subdivisions. No street names will be changed. When necessary, names will be taken from the subdivisions so as to furnish definite places of direction to holiday visitors.

The state of Illinois is assisting in the placing of markers off Highway 173 at the six intersections. The highway as it continues out of Antioch is a continuation of Lake street. It will be called Lake avenue, and marked as such.

At a meeting of the Community club Monday evening, final arrangements were made for the Spring party the organization will sponsor Saturday evening, May 13, at Woodcrest Inn. Tickets for the affair are going quite rapidly, and those who wish to go are being urged to procure them in advance if possible. The party will be open to visitors from other communities, and for their convenience, additional tickets will be available at the door. Cards, dancing, prizes and luncheon are included in the small admission price being charged.

Wilmet High Students Made Music Champions at Cost of Only $1,300 to Taxpayers

Wilmet High school's achievement in winning a first division award for its band, as well as numerous other awards, in the Wisconsin district music festival at Milton, Wis., a week or two ago is attracting widespread comment in view of the smallness of the school.

The championship caliber of the band is still more evident when it is recalled that winning the district event is in reality equivalent to a state award, for it entitles the band to compete next in the regional contests, against representatives of other states.

Wilmet High's achievement has been made possible by the winning spirit of the players and their instructor, Russell Ende, and by an enthusiasm that has extended itself not only to the school's Parent Teacher association, but to the community at large. It was through the P. T. A. and the community, assisted by the school board, that funds were raised to provide uniforms for the 57 players.

The band marches as well as plays, and one of the awards it took was a first place in the marching contest for Class C bands. It also took concert awards and competed against Class C bands to take a first place in a sight-reading contest (there was no sight-reading contest for the Class D bands, hence the players had to enter for this event in the other division.)

In addition individual players, trios and duos went ahead to win six "first" places, six "second" places, and three "thirds."

The school's a cappella choir also upheld the high musical standard by taking a second place award in the Class C concert singing contest. The Wilmet High school's amazing musical record is all the more surprising and commendable when it is considered that the music department there is maintained at a total yearly cost of only $1,300.

The instructor, Mr. Ende, has also been receiving high praise for his achievement in building up, during the two years that he has been at the school, a band capable of acquitting itself so creditably in competition.

Mr. Ende received his training at Milwaukee State Teacher's college. His work at Wilmet high includes other duties besides the teaching of music.

Think Covington Man Died of Natural Causes

So far as could be determined, Paul Herman Schmidt, 44-year-old Covington, Ky., bartender whose body was found under a culvert on Highway 41 (Skokie road) just north of Highway 172 died of natural causes, a coroner's jury called by Lake County Coroner John L. Taylor decided at an inquest held here Monday.

Schmidt has been reported missing from Covington since April 6.

The body was discovered late Friday afternoon by five school children living in the neighborhood, Donald Cernak, Barbara Cernak, Shirley Voight and Arthur Leable.

Looking into one end of the culvert, which forms a passageway about four feet high beneath route 41, the children saw what they took to be the body of a man. When their shouts failed to arouse him, one of their parents, who had been called to the scene, investigated and then notified authorities of the finding of the body.

Schmidt was identified through a social security card found in his pocket.

He had been dead apparently for about two weeks according to Coroner Taylor, and because of the condition of the body it was difficult to establish the exact cause for his death.

The remains of a fireplace which he may have built were found at one entrance to the culvert.

Just Imagine Henry's Embarrassment—He Took the Wrong Auto!

Spring was in the air and Harry Hanke's thought were equally carefree as he stepped into a car parked in front of Small's tavern at Route 54 and Grass Lake road Sunday and drove away.

But he was brought back to earth abruptly when Russell Fields, Pikeville, owner of the car, and James Snyder, Chicago, gave chase in Snyder's car and stopped his musings and his ride.

It was all a mistake, said Hanke. He had parked his car in front of the tavern, he explained, and afterward absent-mindedly got into Field's automobile.

BODY OF CHICAGO MAN RECOVERED FROM LAKE MARIE

Searchers Locate Body of Wm. Johann, Drowned Saturday

Pulling to shore to empty their boat which was filling with rain water, members of a Kenosha Red Cross life-saving crew Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock discovered the body of William Johann, 27, Chicago, who was drowned in Lake Marie Saturday afternoon.

The Red Cross crew had been summoned to aid a rescue squad from the Antioch fire department, and had been searching for the body.

The Kenoshans were dragging the lake bottom further out from where the body was discovered, in a spot indicated by Johann's two companions as that where the accident had occurred, when they decided to go ashore.

As they approached shallower water with the grappling hooks dragging, they snagged the fish line Johann had been using. A further search brought up the body.

Hold Inquest

At an inquest held by Lake County Coroner John L. Taylor at Strang's Funeral home here Tuesday morning, a verdict of accidental death was returned. Johann is survived by his wife, Sybilla, also of Chicago, where they resided at 1245 Wrightwood avenue, and by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Johann, Chicago.

The accident in which he lost his life occurred at about 1:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Johann and his companions, Howard Hutton, 25, and Anthony DeVaux, 31 both of Chicago, had come to the lake shortly after noon. They are said to have pitched a coin as to which lake the trio would go to, and Johann's choice won.

They were fishing from a skiff with an outboard motor. When they were about 500 feet out in the lake a squall overturned the boat. Johann was thrown clear and sank. Hutton, who was the only one able to swim, dived several times but was unable to find him. De Vaux managed to cling to the edge of the boat until rescuers arrived.

Rough Water Interferes

The Antioch fire department's rescue squad was called out at 2:30 o'clock and dragged the water until 5, when the search was temporarily abandoned because of the roughness of the water. Rough water also interfered with locating the body on Sunday, and on Monday additional help was summoned from Kenosha.

In past years, the Antioch firemen have been called upon to locate as many as a dozen bodies in nearby lakes. Last year was the only year in which there were no drownings. This year there have already been two or three in the lake region.

Installation of the new officers also took place. They are Mrs. Joseph Patrovsky, president; Mrs. A. P. Bratrude, vice-president; Mrs. Irving Elms, treasurer; Mrs. Rutha Smith, treasurer, and Mrs. L. J. Zimmerman, historian.

Mrs. Louise Crawford, recreation supervisor, gave a talk on recreation plans for the summer, especially for pre-school children.

New Dealers Dislike Congress

The current session of Congress is turning into one of the strangest that old-timers about the Capitol can remember. Congress has been in session for over four months. Never have the domestic problems been more pressing. Yet all are being shoved into the background while the Quixotic New Dealers ride off furiously in all directions looking for newer and bigger windmills to fight abroad. As a climax to this four months of foreign clamor, Administration stalwarts now propose to dump the entire legislative program and send Congress home by mid-June, leaving the President to handle foreign relations without the Congressional influence against war.

Meanwhile, in every direction Congress peers there are problems at home crying for solution. Unemployment has soared to the 12,000,000 mark, the highest in history except for the early days of 1933 when the New Deal came into power. The Wallace farm program has bogged down and rests upon the thin edge of how much money can be found as a hypodermic needle for farm prices and direct payments to farmers. Heavy stocks of cotton and wheat held by the government hang over the market. Relief payments are crushing business and stifling re-employment. Day by day radicalism in government, much of it directly traceable to Communists, is being uncovered by Congressional investigations. The New Deal's Treasury let it be known one day that it had a tax revision program designed to stimulate business and employment. The next day, the President and Democratic Senatorial Leader Barkley disavowed the program.

Apparently without a program to meet depression conditions, the New Deal wants to get Congress away so that Republicans and conservative Democratic leaders will not have the floors of the Senate and the House to keep pressing domestic issues.

Or Washington, D. C.

Ranchers say sheep aren't worth much after shearing. That sounds like something they'd learned from the well known agricultural experiment station we call Wall Street.

Passing the Buck

PAUL EVANGELIZES A PROVINCE

LESSON TEXT—Acts 19:1, 8-10; 20:17-21; Ephesians 2:19-22.
GOLDEN TEXT—But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ.—Ephesians 2:13.

The Christian Church (that great organization which outwardly represents in the world the mystical organism which is the true Church) seems to be "stalled," if we may borrow a word from the automobilist. Just like a well-designed and carefully built machine which has "died" on the road.

Perhaps the lesson for today may serve to stir up some of us to the responsibility of the Church, and particularly of its individual members, for an aggressive testimony for Christ. Certainly Paul knew nothing of the defeatism which seems to have laid its paralyzing hand on present-day Christianity. Our lesson finds him again making the rounds of the churches he had earlier been used to establish. He knew of their dangers, the tendencies to backslide, the need of new life in the daily conversion of others, and he went about that business with the flaming zeal of an evangelist, with the tender compassion of a pastor, and always with the vision of the heavenly goal before him. Let us learn of Paul.

I. The Evangelist—Fearless and Tireless (Acts 19:1, 8-10).

At Ephesus Paul did the work of an evangelist with such a passion for souls and such power from God that even his enemy, Demetrius, testified (Acts 19:20) that "not alone at Ephesus but almost throughout all Asia this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people" from their heathen worship. He met great opposition both in the synagogue (v. 9) and from the worshippers of Diana (Acts 19:23-41). But he also found that God had opened for him "a great door and effectual" (I. Cor. 16:9), and we read that many believed and showed their faith by destroying the books of heathendom which were in their homes (Acts 19:19).

Are the days of such evangelism gone? Since only the power of God can explain what was accomplished by Paul, the answer would depend on the reply to the question, Has the power and purpose of God changed? Obviously the answer is "No." God is the same, and when we are ready to meet His spiritual requirements He will move again in mighty power. Am I ready? Are you ready?

II. The Pastor—Lover of Souls (Acts 20:17-21).

Having completed his journey through Macedonia and Achaia, Paul is hurrying back to Jerusalem, and not having time to stop at Ephesus he sends for the elders to meet him at Miletus, the nearest seaport. He recalls to them the experiences which he has passed through, tells them of the bonds and afflictions which await him, but above all he wants to admonish and encourage them to go on for Christ. As a pastor who has been true to God and faithful in his ministry, he is able to point to his own walk and work among them as an example, doing this in all humility. Pastor, shall we ask ourselves if we could do the same, or would we need to blush in shame over our failures?

Especially noteworthy is Paul's reference to having gone from house to house as well as teaching publicly. The work of the pulpit or from the teacher's desk loses much of its savor and usefulness if not backed up by personal contact. Some men who preach well, excuse themselves from pastoral work on the ground that they are really preachers, not pastors. Others love to do pastoral work but do not apply themselves to the work of the study, and so they say their calling is that of a pastor rather than a preacher. Brethren, let us face that matter honestly and perhaps we shall find that we are simply taking the line of least resistance. Paul had none of that spirit. He preached with all zeal and power, but he also went from house to house, "serving the Lord with all humility of mind and with many tears."

III. Fellow Citizen in God's Household (Eph. 2:19-22).

The evangelist and pastor here reminds his Ephesian converts that they have entered a goodly fellowship—"the household of God"—and have become "fellow citizens with the saints."

Some folk are called "joiners" because they like to join every possible society, organization, lodge, or what not. Well, here is the supreme fellowship of all, which knows no barrier of race, creed, social position, age, sex, or nationality, and which brings us into fellowship with the eternal God Himself. You may "join" if by faith you will take the Lord Jesus Christ as your personal Saviour and thus enter into eternal life. Will you join God's people now?

COON DOG THROWS BANQUET FOR HIS 85 FOND MASTERS

Chick, Capitalized at $425,
Believed World's Only
Canine Co-operative.

WINDSOR, CONN.—If you hear 85 fellows whistling for a dog that dog's name is Chick and the 85 whistlers are his masters.

Chick is believed the world's only dog co-operative, and he is capitalized at $425. It came about this way:

Arthur and Ben Clark, tobacco farmers, lost their coon dog, and a plantation worker from North Carolina, planning a trip home, said he would get them another from the South.

Soon afterward Chick arrived. He cost $50 and looked like a million—until his first trial, which was a failure.

Chick Makes Good.

Arthur and Ben decided to give the hound another try, and Chick, now more accustomed to the northern trails, made good.

City Treasurer George H. Gabb of Hartford heard of the hound and, because the Clark brothers thought $50 a bit stiff to pay between themselves, offered to buy a $5 interest. Then a couple of other friends chipped in $5 each and in no time at all Chick had 85 co-operative owners who had put up $5 and organized the Wonder Dog Coon club.

When the club members got together for their first meeting they invested in a collar for their dog. Each one wanted his name on the plate and there were so many names it took three plates to accommodate them all. It was all the hound could do to keep his head up under the weight.

Club Declares Dividend.

Someone thought the club should celebrate, so the Wonder Dog Coon club declared a "dividend."

There was still $375 left in the capitalization fund, so they threw a banquet. Attending were the 85 masters and 15 friends.

The owners received a "personal invitation" from Chick. It read:

"Dear Pal:

"You may not know how it feels to be the most celebrated coon dog in the world, and perhaps you never will.

"I do, and it's grand, believe me. Only for you and the other fellows who backed me with their good dough, I would be down in the North Carolina mountains chasing bobcats and chipmunks with some bewhiskered moonshiner.

"To show how much I appreciate the implicit faith you have in me I am inviting you to come to my party."

And Chick signed each invitation with a pawprint.

To the guests there was a different invitation, a bit more formal and savoring of the southern hospitality to which Chick was accustomed. That one read:

"Chick, coon dog de luxe, requests the pleasure of your company at a dinner tendered in honor of his sponsors," etc.

Everybody came to the dinner, which shot a big hole in the capitalization fund, and everybody had a grand time. Chick occupied the place of honor at the banquet table and his three-plate collar fairly sparkled. It was a great event.

Victims Skirt Death in

Two Unusual Accidents

SYDNEY, N. S. W.—Two Sydney men were victims of accidents which they reckoned would not happen again for a thousand years.

Percy Williams, 25, was sitting in the back yard of his home at Newton, a Sydney suburb, when an object hurtled out of the blue and knocked him unconscious. The object proved to be an iron tail-skid "shoe" weighing a pound and a half. It had fallen from an airplane which was flying overhead. Williams was not badly injured, but he would have been killed if the skid shoe had hit him squarely.

Francis Farmer, 68, was walking along a city street after rain had fallen and slipped on the wet pavement. He fell, was not hurt by the fall, and stood up with a woman's umbrella hanging from his nose. The woman had been standing on the edge of the pavement, and as Farmer fell, one of the umbrella ribs pierced his nose. A pair of pliers had to be used to cut the rib, which was removed from the nose in a hospital.

'Dying Woman's' Moan Is

Just a Lonesome Dog's

BOSTON.—A light glowed on the telephone switchboard. The exchange operator plugged in and said "Number, please." An instant later she was on the wire to Brighton police headquarters. "It sounded like the moan of a dying woman," she said.

A squad of police sped to the Selkirk road apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Knowlton. They knocked but got no response.

Patrolman Andrew Maguire drew his gun and crawled through a hall window. In the living room he was greeted by a delighted spaniel. On the floor he found an overturned telephone.

Mrs. Knowlton returned home after a Junior league meeting to find the house filled with policemen.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hucker, Lake Villa, announce the birth of a son at Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan.

Buried Treasure

One reason for the comparative cheapness of ancient coins is the fact that great hoards of them are discovered from time to time, according to the Detroit Coin club. Man's first bank was a hole in the ground where he hid his wealth from his friends as well as foes, and during wars and invasions he often perished without disclosing his secrets. Some finds are not reported, but a hoard unearthed in India is the richest known. It consisted of 300,000 irregular and crudely designed gold coins, about the size of a half-eagle.

When a Duck Sinks

A duck cannot float in a tank of water containing a small quantity of diethyl ester of sodium sulfosuccinic acid. As little as one part of this chemical in 2,000 parts of water quickly loosens the protective oil in the bird's feathers and they become so waterlogged and heavy within a few minutes, that the duck sinks, observes a writer in Collier's Weekly.

Porcupines Like Salt

The fact that porcupines devour deer antlers in the forests is generally known among sportsmen and other frequenters of the outdoors, and many campers have learned to their sorrow that the spiny little animals are fond of gnawing boat oars, x handles and other objects frequently touched by human hands and containing salty deposits from perspiration.

Popularity and Hard Work

"The man," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "who makes a business of being popular, never has much liking for hard work."

Discovery of America
America in all probability was "discovered" a great many times before European history made any definite record of the fact. A Norse sea captain, one Herjulfson, was blown out of his course while taking a load of colonists to Greenland in 986 A. D., and sighted the coasts of Newfoundland and Labrador. He did not land, but his story moved Lief Erickson to investigate, and Lief, in 1001 A. D., visited Nova Scotia, New England and probably lands farther south. But none of the discoveries really "took" until that of Columbus, October 12, 1492.

England's Wall Street

The City of London, ruled over by the Lord Mayor, is England's Wall Street and newspaper row. Over this small district rules the Lord Mayor, whose show each fall is one of the greatest sights of London. He must be a man of wealth, for his salary does not begin to cover the expenses of his office. There is a lot of satisfaction in his job just the same, for he it is who must give the king of England permission to enter this small domain.

Other Names for Chicory

Chicory has other common names as for instance, Succory, Blue Sailors, Chicory Blue, Coffee Weed, and Bachelor's Buttons. The flower heads are bright blue in color and about two inches across composed entirely of strap-shaped flowers. This plant grows from one to three feet high, the stem being stiff and much branched.

Style Soon Changed

When American women began traveling alone on railroad trains in the 1870s, many carried a closely bundled "artificial baby," or large crying doll, recalls a writer in Collier's Weekly, so they would appear to be mothers and have no trouble in securing seats and discouraging the attentions of lonely gentlemen.

Why Ship is Called 'She'

In some of the older languages, such as Latin and Old German, from which modern languages have been derived, all inanimate objects were given masculine or feminine gender. In this way the moon was feminine and the sun masculine and among other things, ships and other vehicles were generally spoken of in the feminine gender. Modern languages have adopted this same idea; hence, the reason for speaking of a ship and train as "she."

Tops World in Railway Speed

United States Supreme in Both Electric and Steam Power.

WASHINGTON.—Speed of passenger trains has been developed by the United States to a far greater degree than by any other country, according to a survey of the world's fastest railroad runs just completed by the Railway Gazette, published in London.

Not only does America have the largest amount of high-speed mileage, but it also is supreme in swift trains operated by Diesel, steam and electric power. Only one country—Germany—has a faster scheduled run.

The survey discloses that American railroads have reached 48,247 miles of daily runs scheduled at 60 miles and more per hour. This is more than half of the world's entire mile-a-minute mileage. It is an increase of 10,835 miles over 1937.

75 Miles an Hour.

For runs booked at 65 miles and more per hour the United States has 12,030 miles. There are 4,415 miles at 70 miles and more per hour and 1,012 miles at 75 miles and more per hour.

That the United States has made amazing progress in the speeding up of passenger trains is seen from the fact that in 1932, American mile-a-minute runs totaled only 2,022 miles.

The fastest scheduled run in the world is made by a German Diesel train, which travels 109.6 miles at 82.2 miles per hour. However, an American train, also Diesel operated, is close on its heels with a run of 62.4 miles at 81.4 miles per hour.

Outranks All in Steam.

In both mileage and scheduled runs this country outranks all others in steam operated passenger trains, according to the survey. For instance, the United States has 23,692 of the 46,633 miles of daily runs at 60 miles and more per hour. With a train hitting 73.9 miles per hour over a 43.1 mile stretch, America leads the list. It also occupies the next three places.

Two 75-mile-an-hour runs for a distance of 15 miles put America on top in the field of electrically operated trains, the review says. At speeds of 60 miles and more per hour 9,632 of the world's 15,736 miles are in the United States.

Beautiful Bird Beyond

Expert Classification

LONDON.—A bird that has baffled ornithologists at the Natural History Museum, South Kensington, was exhibited at the national show of caged birds at New Horticultural hall, Westminster.

Eight experts examined the bird but none was able to define its species or country or origin.

Its owner, Allen Silver of Newport, who has had in his hand virtually every rare bird that has reached this country in the last 40 years, said that he had never seen anything like it.

The bird is the size of a canary but has extraordinary jet-black markings on its sulphur-yellow body and jet-black flight feathers. With its golden crown and sleek lines it is most attractive.

It was brought by a sailor returning from Africa to this country 18 months ago. Silver, who acquired it in October, went through all the books on birds in the museum, and examined thousands of bird skin specimens in its collection without finding poor anything to resemble the stranger.

Australian Men 'Go Soft';

They Copy Movie Actors

DARWIN, AUSTRALIA.—American films, especially those starring such film idols as Clark Gable, Leslie Howard and William Powell, are being blamed here for turning Australia's real "he-men" into the Hollywood type.

Formerly these burly giants thought nothing of a 600-mile ride in the saddle, or of digging postholes in a temperature of 150 degrees, with unkempt heads and bristling whiskers.

Now, according to beauty parlor operators, they are dawdling in Darwin's beauty parlors, getting permanent waves, velvet if still blue chins, plucked eyebrows and massaged faces.

One woman hairdresser who came here with the intention of catering only to women, reports that nearly half of her clientele is masculine.

Goat Ranch Is Run By Widow and Boy

Unusual Career of Sixteen Years Is Disclosed.

WASHINGTON.—The almost unique career, for a woman, of a small, wiry, middle-aged widow who has supported herself for 16 years operating a goat ranch, was disclosed in an application from Mrs. Josie Medford, of Parkdale, Colo., for permission to graze her herd on public lands under the jurisdiction of the general land office.

One of the few women to be awarded the use of federal land in connection with the operation of a goat ranch, Mrs. Medford has been offered a five-year lease for approximately 800 acres of mountainous country in Fremont county, near Canon City, as a range for her animals.

For the last 16 years, it was disclosed, Mrs. Medford has been doing her own work, herding, milking, fencing, building and conducting the other chores incidental to the conduct of a ranch.

"She now has 150 milch goats that she grazes on her own lands and adjacent public range," an official report stated. "About half of these goats are milked every day and the milk is delivered at Canon City for shipment to Colorado Springs; she and a boy who lives with her, take turns in herding and hauling the milk to Canon City 25 miles away."

Emphasizing that Mrs. Medford's choice of an enterprise is far from easy, the report points out that goats are not turned loose on the range, but are carefully herded.

The report concludes with this testimony as to the hardihood of Mrs. Medford:

"There are no improvements on the lands applied for, but she states that if she feels as energetic as she has in the past she will probably get out and fence these lands to keep the cow men off."

U. S. Navy's Air Force

Equal to Any in World

WASHINGTON.—President Roosevelt and high naval officials were convinced by recent fleet maneuvers in the South Atlantic that the naval air forces of the United States equal, and perhaps surpass, those of any other nation.

Their opinion was based on a study of performance of the 600 planes—about one-third of the navy's total air strength—during two weeks of exercises in which assignments were carried out without incident.

Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, praised the performance of both ships and aircraft during the maneuvers and said "reliability and effectiveness" of sea and aerial defenses was demonstrated. "The performance of aircraft in the maneuvers was, by far, the best I ever saw," Leahy said. "They carried out their mission without an accident. The advantages in the air were on the 'defense' side."

Mule Is Rated as Most

Valuable Farm Animal

WASHINGTON.—The mule seems to be winning its fight for existence in the United States, but the horse is not doing so well.

A government survey shows there were 4,362,000 mules in the country in 1938. This was a reduction of 1 per cent from 1937 but the number of mules foaled in 1938, while smaller than the number of deaths of old mules, was the largest in 10 years. Officials found mules in every state, though too few in New England to be included in the figures. More than 80 per cent of the total was found in the South.

The survey showed 10,800,000 work-horses in the country, some in each state but more than 55 per cent in the North Central states. The total was 3 per cent less than in 1937, with the number of horses foaled in 1938 the smallest in six years. The work-horse total has declined about 50 per cent in the last 20 years.

The federal specialists rate the mule as the most valued of farm animals, giving it a national average of $118, as contrasted with $84 for the horse and $56 for the cow.

Herb Specialist Makes

Hamburger Kingly Dish

CLEVELAND.—By the addition of the proper herbs, hamburger can be raised to the gastric level of filet mignon, according to Miss Daisy Healey.

Miss Healey's hobby is collecting and experimenting with herbs. She raises them, too, and has created some new ones through experiments with combinations.

"I decided to have an herb laboratory after visiting an herb garden at Mount St. Albans, Wash.," she said.

"In my herbarium are thyme and marjoram, which, with a bit of mystic mace, give a roast of beef or hamburger just the right flavoring," Miss Healey said her other aromatic plants include tarragon, linden, lavender, and bay laurel.

"Herbs should be used as a seasoning and not to overshadow the flavor of foods. They relieve the monotony of good, but plainly cooked meals," she said.

The Antioch Aces got off to a bad start in the season opener here Sunday by dropping the first game to Pleasant Prairie, 14 to 4. A little bad luck figured in the "breaks," as the locals made 12 hits to their rivals' 15 safe clouts, but the home crew failed to deliver when hits would have meant runs.

Whether or not the Antioch Grade school baseball team has pennant aspirations the local youngsters seem destined to win the local conference championship for 1939. With three decisive victories tucked away this spring and only one lost last fall the locals look like champs.

Teams in the conference include Antioch, Lake Villa, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Mundelein, Libertyville, (two teams), Gurnee, Gavin and Bonnie Brook. Mundelein will meet the locals on the home grounds Friday afternoon.

Hints For Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

HONOLULU egg-nog served with plain sugar cookies makes a delicious dessert for school-age youngsters, and at the same time renews any waning interest in milk as a beverage. Prepare it this way—combine 3 cups canned unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice, 2 or 3 tablespoons powdered sugar, 2 eggs slightly beaten, 1/4 cup evaporated milk or thin cream. Beat or shake until smooth and fluffy. Top each serving with a dash of grated nutmeg or cinnamon. Be sure that pineapple juice and milk are well chilled. This amount makes four 8-ounce servings.

Alternate one-inch squares of bacon, liver and drained canned Hawaiian pineapple gems (spoon size, pineapple cut from the juiciest part of the fruit), broiled on a skewer with a golden brown will win applause for the cook. Serve on or off the skewer on toast or waffles.

Use of Higley Tokens
Some of the most unusual tokens to be made and passed as money by our colonial ancestors were those of John Higley of Granby, Conn., relates an official of the Detroit Coin Club. Higley used to frequent a neighboring public house and was much inconvenienced by the shortage of small change. Being a blacksmith and a man of action, he decided to do something about it and began striking copper three-pennies in 1737. Higley tokens are noted for their crude workmanship and quaint legends such as "I Am Good Copper" and "Value Me As You Please."

Swain Brave Fellow, But He Goes to Jail

CLEVELAND, OHIO.—A young swain's fearlessness landed him in police court.

He was walking along a street with a girl friend when he decided to prove to her what a brave fellow he was.

"I'm not afraid of anybody. Just to show you," he said, "I'll knock down the first man that comes along."

He did.

DAD AND DAUGHTER UNITED BY RADIO

Girl, Lost 23 Years, Talks to Her Father.

HAMMOND, IND.—For the first time in 23 years, a father and a daughter are talking to each other with the aid of radio amateurs in Hammond, Ind., and Los Angeles.

It was only recently that Walter Baden of Hammond found the daughter who was taken from him by his wife at the time of their divorce nearly a quarter of a century ago.

She is Mrs. Olive Carolyn Klar of Los Angeles, widowed mother of a four-year-old child. But neither she nor Baden had enough money to go to the other.

V. L. Harnack of Hammond, operator of amateur radio station W9-LMO, and Ashby Stratton of Los Angeles, station W6TMM, arranged for two-way conversation.

When the first talk was arranged, Baden approached the mike in Harnack's home tremblingly. He heard the faint words:

"Hello, daddy, can't you hear me? This is Olive."

All the things Baden had planned to say fled from his mind. Tearfully, he cried:

"Olive."

"It's—it's nice weather out here," Olive said.

Then suddenly she burst out:

"Oh, daddy, why can't we see each other? I'm so poor I had to borrow six cents for an airmail stamp to mail you a letter."

"We'll see each other soon," Baden promised her. "I'll find the money some way. We'll talk again soon. I'm sure."

And he wasn't mistaken, for Harnack and Stratton have arranged for other conversations between the father and his long-lost daughter until the time when they can be reunited—in person.

Indians Declare Cobra

Always Verifies Its Kill

BEDAGAMA, CEYLON.—A cobra attended the inquest here of a man it had bitten, at least that is what natives believe.

While walking home one evening the man accidentally trod on the snake, which bit him. He ran the rest of the way home, about a quarter of a mile, and there collapsed and died.

During the inquest, which was held in the house the following evening, a cobra was noticed crawling about outside. Villagers caught it and showed it to the coroner, saying that it was the same one that had killed the man.

They explained that an injured cobra will often not be content with biting the person who injures it, but will follow him about afterward. If he escapes the first time, it will lie in wait and attack him again.

Chivalrous Cops Perform

Ticklish Job for a Lady

EVANSTON, ILL.—Mrs. Helen Zaiser rang and rang the front door bell of her home. No luck. She had just returned from driving her maid home. Her husband, William, was dozing in an arm chair.

Getting chilly and annoyed, Mrs. Zaiser summoned Policemen George Hildebrecht and Walter Egebrecht. They forced open a living room window. But it was too far above the ground for them to enter.

Then Mrs. Zaiser had an inspiration. The policemen went to the garage, got a fishing pole, reached through the window and tickled Mr. Zaiser in the ribs. Mr. Zaiser awoke. Mrs. Zaiser got in.

Hunter Out Too Late,

ELGIN, N. B.—Mike Layden has given up hunting—at least after sundown.

Returning from a belated deer-hunting expedition, Layden came face to face with three bears. Forgetting his guns and other equipment Mike took to a tall tree, where the bears held him prisoner for nearly six hours.

He was rescued when the hired man from his farm came looking for him and the noise he made tramping through the brush frightened the bears.

Skeleton at Car Wheel

Jolts Three Pranksters

CAPTOWN.—Three young men in a North Natal town who had amused themselves by playing pranks on parked cars got a shock the other day when they opened a door of a car.

At the wheel was seated a skeleton dressed in a white shirt and felt hat.

One of the youths collapsed, one stood petrified and the third gave a terrified shriek.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

MEMORY COURSE IN 1,000 LESSONS

THE German psychologist, Ebbinghaus, a careful, scholarly observer of the workings of the human mind, has said that we forget 90 per cent of what we learn within 24 hours. From your own experience you know that what he says is true.

The business man, noting this, understands why he must advertise, not occasionally nor sporadically, but all the time. It's the only way he can be of the greatest service to his customers.

His advertising reminds us of him and of the things he sells, and though we may forget him and those things between times, every advertisement he publishes renews the impression and creates recognition of his business.

His problem is to find the most economical way of reminding us that it is to our advantage to trade with him.

He discovers soon that nothing is so economical a medium for this purpose as the newspaper. There he advertises. We read. Both he and ourselves benefit by his repeated advertising.

He benefits in the obvious way, by winning us as steady customers. We benefit in an equally obvious way, by finding a man whom we can trust and from whom we can buy all the many things we need to make our lives more interesting and complete.

Advertising is the news of business. Often that news is of far more importance to us than any other news in the paper.

For example, if a woman needs a new coat and scans the advertisements to see what is being offered, the business news she reads is of far greater moment in her life right then than the story on page one of a war in Asia Minor or of an oil field fire in Texas.

Stripped of all glamor and mystery advertising amounts to nothing more exciting than this: telling people of a place where they can get what they need to make life possible or endurable or lively or enjoyable at the most satisfactory and economical basis.

The advertiser who keeps telling the story of his advantages naturally gets the bulk of the trade, because, as you have just learned, we all forget rapidly and must be reminded continually if we are to act.

When advertising is carried on for a long enough time, the name of the man and his product become a part of the daily life of millions of households, respected, revered things and names, almost as close to us as friends or members of our own family.

Universal Brotherhood

THE opening stanza of a well-known hymn (Christian Science Hymnal, No. 105), typifies the prayer of all earnest Christians today:

"Help us to help each other, Lord,
Each other's cross to bear;
Let each his friendly aid afford,
And feel his brother's care."

Modern invention has reduced, measurably, the limitations of time and distance. Today, the so-called foreign country is our next-door neighbor. Through the medium of the radio, we are informed of current events as they occur. As a result, the problems arising across the miles of ocean, which demand attention, immediately become a part of our thought. It is, therefore, essential that all right-thinking people should develop and maintain an attitude of universal brotherhood.

The Golden Rule still remains the highest standard for the expression of this brotherhood. It applies both in the simplest dealings with our immediate neighbor and in the most complex diplomatic and other relationships with our fellow men at large. We do not hesitate to share our garden tools with the man next door. How much more, then, should we be willing to share our spiritual benefits with a group of individuals called a nation!

However, should the borrower next door misuse that which we have lent him, we may justly refuse to be allied with such a practice. In other words, the mere preaching of peace and brotherly kindness is insufficient. The essential part is the practicing of our highest concept of good. In his parable of the good Samaritan, Jesus not only rebuked hypocrisy, but also indicated the practical nature of true religion.

Paul wrote to the workers in the church at Rome (Romans 13:10),

Drama Revives Religious Spirit

Passion Play at Zion City, Ill., Enters Fourth Season.

ZION, ILL.—All down through the Christian dispensation men and women have thrilled to the wonderful story of the Life of Jesus Christ. This old, old story is beautifully portrayed in the Passion Play which is undoubtedly a most potent force in spreading the gospel.

The successful production year after year, for the past four years, of the Passion Play by members of the Christian Catholic Church at Zion, Illinois, has demonstrated that it is not necessary to travel to Oberammergau, Germany, to witness a worth-while reenactment of the events in the Life of Christ.

Starting in a comparatively small way in the summer of 1935 it has each year grown in value as an annual religious festival, and each year has attracted a larger attendance from an ever widening circle.

The Zion Passion Play, the "Oberammergau of America," enters upon its fourth season on Sunday, May 14. Each Sunday afternoon, up to and including July 9, thousands from various parts of the country will witness the unfolding of the events of Christ's earthly ministry.

The outstanding success of Zion Passion Play is due in no small measure to the fact that Elder Jabez Taylor, its author and producer, spent several months in the Holy Land familiarizing himself with actual scenes of the Lord's ministry and making the sketches from which he has personally painted the scenery. The production is a three hour performance and has 26 scenes.

DESCENT FROM THE CROSS

One of the scenes that has caused the Zion Passion Play at Zion, Ill., to be referred to as "The Oberammergau of America," John, the beloved Disciple, Joseph, and Nicodemus are removing the body from the cross. Mary the Mother, and Mary Magdalene, and the other women are weeping beside the cross.

BEAUTY TIPS

YOU'VE heard the old saying—"she's a lady to her fingertips"—it still goes! And for her ladyship we can't think of anything nicer than a modern manicure set.

We saw a smart and inexpensive one the other day called the Observatory Set. It comes in a modern plastic case and contains all the necessities for a complete manicure.

Another aid for the care of her ladyship's nails is the glycerated polish remover pads in tall jars that look as if they were lace lined. Each jar contains 40 pads, one pad sufficient to remove polish from all ten fingers. In short, a supply for almost a year!

There are sixteen smart tones in creme nail polishes—from Natural to deep Vineyard; hand cream to keep skin white and smooth; nail-groom to keep nails from splitting, cuticle from drying. With these at our command it is easy to be smart to our fingertips.

Trapper Is Trapped

By His Own Bear Trap
WILLIAMS LAKE, B. C.—Groping through light snow in search of a bear trap he had set, Baptiste Pete, an Indian trapper, stepped into it and was caught by the foot in the steel jaws. The heavy, jagged jaws of the trap were too strong for the Indian to force open, and he was imprisoned for five hours before another trapper released him.

CRIPPLED OFFICER BACK ON HIS JOB

Assisted by Willpower, He Fools Specialists.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—Patrolman William McNearney, who specialists said would be a cripple for the rest of his life, is back on the job—a sound and able man.

His recovery followed months of agonizing pain, months of painstaking effort when only his courage kept him striving to restore strength to his shattered left arm.

Today, McNearney is an officer of the law again, but not pounding his old beat in the business section of Schenectady. Now he is a member of the bureau of criminal identification—a job he has always wanted.

It was more than a year ago that Patrolman McNearney was directing traffic at a street intersection. A speeding automobile whizzed around a corner and struck him. He was rushed to a hospital where physicians shook their heads and said: "He will never use his left arm again. It is shattered in 14 different places between the shoulder and elbow."

A nervous, high-strung person, McNearney refused sedatives throughout that first long, agonizing night. It was not until the following morning that surgeons could begin work on the shattered arm.

Ten operations were performed on the arm during the months that followed. A silver plate held the broken bones in place.

Only one break could be set at a time. When one was sufficiently healed, the next break, which already had started growing together again, had to be rebroken and set.

Physicians said the nerves of his left arm were dead, but McNearney never quite agreed. When he was able to move about again, he bought an array of exercising apparatus. Daily, without fail, the patrolman worked to restore strength to his stiff arm.

McNearney continued the exercises, seven and eight hours daily throughout the fall months until his arm was almost normal. Now the specialists, marveling at McNearney's perseverance, predict that within two years, the arm will be as good as ever.

Old Con Game HoodwinksOne of Three Smart Men

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—Probably depending upon the Houdini-Thurston theory that the smartest men are the easiest to hoodwink, two youths chose Yale's president, Charles Seymour, for a little experiment along this line.

Professor Seymour lost $15 thereby, he says. Professor Santuel W. Dudley, dean of the Yale Engineering school, didn't bite, and nobody knows yet whether Professor Arnold Whitbridge of Calhoun college would have fallen. A policeman stopped proceedings while Whitbridge was arguing with one of the boys.

The gag, say police, was to call the professors and tell them that one of their friends was being held out of town on traffic charges and needed money for bail.

The amount asked of Professor Dudley, he told police, was $35. A $35 request was made of Professor Whitbridge. The youths are Louis Marmitt, 25, and Benjamin Rutstein, 23, now held on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Discover Idea of 'Voder' Existing 150 Years Ago

ST. LOUIS.—The "Voder," a recently demonstrated mechanism that imitates human speech, was devised 150 years ago by a Viennese scientist, according to Dr. Max Goldstein, director of the Central Institute for the Deaf here.

The Voder, resembling an old-fashioned organ with a keyboard and foot pedal on which the operator mixes basic sounds, was developed in the Bell Telephone laboratories. It was displayed for the first time before a group of scientists at Franklin Institute in Philadelphia.

Dr. Goldstein said he got his information from a book published in 1701 by Wolfgang von Kempelen of Vienna.

Kempelen's machine was endorsed by phonetic experts in Europe at the time, Dr. Goldstein said, and the inventor and his wife gave demonstrations in many scientific centers.

Dr. Goldstein said the book containing the description of the voice machine is so rare that the inventors of the Voder were undoubtedly unaware of the earlier instrument.

But It's True

James Cook of Phillipsburg (W. Va.) high school, competing in a championship meet on June 3, 1922, broke his leg when he accidentally stepped on the board marking the inside boundary of the track. He rose, resumed running, did not collapse at the finish.
